If your dealership does not have an existing DealerVault® account, the database contact you provided on the onboarding form will receive an email asking them to create their dealership's DealerVault® account. Here is a quick guide to begin the initial onboarding process.

Once that is complete, Authenticom Support will reach out about completing your DMS integration with DealerVault®. Here is a quick guide to that process.

If your dealership already has an account, the database contact provided on the onboarding form and all DealerVault® account admins will receive an email about a new feed request. The feeds can either be approved through email, or you can log in to DealerVault®, navigate to pending activities on your home tab, and click on the pencil and approve the request.
